Newly elected Chief Maureen Luggi stated “The mandate for our newly elected Council is to pursue long-term government to government negotiations based on governance and reconciliation and to engage the community in discussions on re-entering back into the British Columbia Treaty Process.” Luggi is the former Chief of Wet’suwet’en First Nation from 1987 - 2007.

“There is a stronger need to focus on economic reconciliation for the First Nation, to eliminate poverty, improve housing conditions, improve drinking water conditions and the overall health and wellness of the community will be a priority.” stated Councillor Karen Ogen-Toews. Ogen-Toews is the former Chief of the Wet’suwet’en First Nation from 2010-2016.

Councillor Heather Nooski stated “I am honoured to work with my community and I am here to offer fair representation, honest communication and accountability in my role as Councillor. Nooski added that her intentions are to support local and regional efforts to strengthen and diversify the economy. This elected position is the first for Nooski.

The conduct of the election was managed by Lawrence Lewis, Electoral Officer, One Feather, Victoria, BC.
